Note: If a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.
For federal tax purposes, you are considered a person if you are:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• An individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States,</li><li>• A partnership, corporation, company, or association created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States, or</li><li>• Any estate (other than a foreign estate) or trust. However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the Part I instructions on page 3. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see how to get a TIN on page 3. Note: If the account is in more than one name, see the chart on page 4 for guidelines on whose number to enter.
Part II Certification
Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or

In 3 above, if applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income.
Note: If a requestor gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requestor's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.
For federal tax purposes, you are considered a person if you are:
